are always supported

About Us

The Royal Hospital Chelsea provides lifelong care, comradeship and community to former British Army soldiers. It has been home to the iconic Chelsea Pensioners for the last three centuries, offering high-quality support in a historic setting, where veterans live with dignity, purpose and companionship. Through public support and engagement, the Royal Hospital ensures those who served are never forgotten – and always supported.

A Community Like No Other

At the Royal Hospital, veterans discover more than a home, they find a family. Surrounded by friends, embraced by expert care, and engaged in purposeful activity, Chelsea Pensioners reclaim a sense of belonging and dignity. This is a place where lives are not just lived, but truly thrive through camaraderie and shared history.

IMPACT

Chelsea Pensioners live, on average, five years longer than their peers. Even more remarkable, their life expectancy grows year after year within our community. This is care that transcends medicine, it's about friendship, meaning, and the deep human connections that give life its richest rewards.

“I was married for 58 years and nursed my wife for a long while towards the end, and when she died, I fell to pieces. I barely left the house anymore. So I came here, and this place saved my life. It gave me a reason to live again, where we’ve all lived the same life, and where we speak the same language. It’s our final posting.”

Your Support Matters

We are a charity and rely on the generosity of our Patrons to continue our vital work. With rising costs and uncertain government support, your help is essential.

Your support sustains:

- Exceptional care – ensuring older veterans receive outstanding accommodation, medical support, and quality of life.
- Community and outreach – expanding national programmes that combat loneliness and isolation among older veterans.
- Heritage preservation – protecting our Grade I and II listed buildings and grounds for future generations.
